REWRITING ARMY CARDS GOES SLOW

Constant work last night and today by the Board of Registration of Marion county reduced the deficiency in figures from over 100 too many on the tabulated reports to about 12 too many. This small number will be straightened out today and full reports should be ready for the governor by tomorrow evening.

Many new citizens and declarants came to make out their "papers" which are really their registration cards. There have been but three girls volunteer to help out on the work of rewriting the registration cards though calls have been sent out by County Clerk A. G. Martin. The girls who started in to do the work on typewriters have given up that slow process and are using pens and seem to be making good progress. In a day's work but about 100 cards can be duplicated and there are almost 5,000 to be made.

The present figures are: Whites registered, 3,370; colored, 375; aliens, 959, and enemy aliens, 11. The official figures summarized will not be ready for publication until the first of next week.

Assistant County Clerk Ed Phillips has been kept back from his regular work the past several days trying to talk Slavish, German, Swede, the finger language, the various Austrian dialects and numerous other unspeakable languages. He fills out patiently all the cards of the stragglers. Sometimes he has to have an interpreter but most of the time his marriage license training, which has taught him small snatches of all languages, extant, comes in handy and he goes through the ordeal with flying colors. The Board of Registration will likely have to go over every precinct's cards today and tonight in order to find where the trouble lies in which there are 12 men more on the tally cards than there are cards signed.

He is a favored employee of the H. C. Frick Coal company and when he left Edinburg to make a trip through West Virginia was told not to solicit the labor of men already employed in mines, not to trespass but to try to pick men up on the streets and around the railroad stations. This, he says, he has done. He claims Watts and Lee hunted him yesterday that they followed him out of the Dixie theatre yesterday afternoon, and that ice got on a street car he was on and as the car passed Watts on the street, ice beckoned to Watts to get on which he did. But there was nothing done yesterday he not having been approached even by ice and Watts until they struck him without warning this morning and this afternoon.

out for both ice and Watts. Medvorich in making his statement says: "I was here picking up men who did not want to work in the mines here, who claimed they would not work here, but that they might work in Pennsylvania if they could get enough money per day. I promised them $3 to $3.85 per day with six days' work a week and they agreed to go with me. Consequently I bought them their supper, paid for their rooms last night, got them their breakfasts and was going to pay their transportation to the mines. There were ten of them. On my way to the station on the East Side Jim Ice came up behind me and struck me on the face and forehead three times with a blackjack, at the same time Watts came up in front of me and struck me two terrific blows on the left side of the face with his blackjack. I just swung my arms and knocked them both 10 or 15 feet and ran. Then in the Dixie theatre this afternoon when it was dark, they attacked me again."

Medvorich came to the city hall twice today, each time his face streaming in blood, suffering agonizing pains and fearful for the condition of his right eye which he may lose. Medvorich is an American citizen, proof of
